

Agave murpheyi

MURPHEY'S AGAVE

Murphy's Agave is a handsome dark blue-green color with narrow, strap-like vertical straight to slightly curved leaves with numerous but small marginal teeth and a short terminal spine. These are clump forming plants with some capable of producing many offsets. They are tough, and adaptable to many garden situations blending in well with native or desert adapted shrubs, trees, ornamental grasses or virtually any other tropical or desert accent plants. Individual, immature plants have a symmetrically rounded natural shape.
