

Agave x 'Blue Flame'

'BLUE FLAME' AGAVE

This Agave has soft, unarmed blue green leaves with a flame-like appearance from which its common name was derived. It is a luscious looking clump forming or groundcover type hybrid Agave. Individual plants grow at a moderate rate to 2-3 ft. high & wide, but as they age, they will continue to multiply to form groups that can spread 4-8 ft. in width. They are great for use at poolside, water features and patios where you want to maintain a soft, invitingly cool, tropical appeal. Minimal maintenance, but they prefer regular supplemental water through the first summer or two. As with other Agaves, well-drained soil is a must.

DESCRIPTION

 2-3 FT. x 2-3 FT.

 FULL TO PART SUN

 USDA ZONE 9-12

 UCLA BOTANICAL GARDEN

 YELLOWISH GREEN

 LOW TO MODERATE

 TO 25°F