PLANT DETAILS

Bougainvillea spectabilis 'Royal Purple'

'ROYAL PURPLE' BOUGAINVILLEA

'Royal Purple' forms iridescent purple bracts. Hardy and vigorous but performs best with some late afternoon shade in low deserts. A bit of extra iron applied annually in alkaline soils helps prevent chlorosis. Available in bush form, staked or as espalier. Most Bougainvillea grow into tall and wide thorny, woody vines. Support is needed initially, but with strong, vigorous growth, plants mature quickly to stand alone displaying brilliantly colored bracts. The roots of all Bougainvillea sp. are sensitive to disturbance. Care and gentle handling during planting are needed to avoid stress and transplant shock.
