Leucophyllum frutescens 'Compacta'

COMPACT TEXAS SAGE

Soft gray leaves with light purple blooms. This selection of Texas Sage is unique for its dense compact growth habit that requires little to no pruning. When conditions are optimal, masses of light lavender-colored flowers appear during summer monsoon season. They are durable, moderately-fast growing full shrubs. While this selection accepts shearing, it is not advisable. Their size and dense growth do lend them to be utilized for a low water, evergreen hedge. They are most commonly used as foundational shrubs for virtually all residential and commercial landscapes.
