

Prosopis alba hybrid 'Crown Jewel'

'CROWN JEWEL' THORNLESS MESQUITE

The grandest thornless mesquite for desert landscapes. 'Crown Jewel' is a moderate to fast growing thornless hybrid of a Argentine mesquite. These trees have dark blue-green compound leaves and dark chocolate brown peeling bark. They are outstanding landscape trees with superb root anchoring, artistic multiple trunks, and an upright well-branched canopy of 30-40 ft. for pleasing summer shade. Its individual leaflets are shorter than those of Chilean mesquites, but the over-all size, shape and growth habit of 'Crown Jewel' is more picturesque and worry free. They are tolerant of heat and drought but more cold hardy than other south American mesquites making them the best choice from mid elevation landscapes.
