TIPU TREE

Lovely, fast growing yellow flowering shade trees. These upright woody trees are fast growing with large, soft compound leaflets. They are evergreen to semi-deciduous in low deserts with mature trees becoming more resistant to cold. They have an attractive size, canopy texture, and provide suitable shade for growing a plethora of understory accent plants or perennials. In late spring to summer trees form clusters of sweet-pea-like flowers of bright yellow at the ends of all the branches, which gives them a delightful golden silhouette. Provide moderate to ample water, especially for immature trees and for all trees during low desert summers.
