

Verbena tenuisecta

(Syn. Glandularia pulchella)

MOSS VERBENA

Fast growing long-blooming groundcover. Durable herbaceous groundcover that lends itself to many uses. Soft, divided small leaves cover bright green square stems with flower clusters of bright purple above the foliage most of the year in low deserts or coastal landscapes. Easy-to-cultivate and care for these evergreen groundcovers can spill out of pots, raised beds or over slopes. Their lacy foliage complements almost any other wide leafed shrubs or bold accent plants. Like other Verbenas, they can be used to soften hardscape elements like boulders or short accent walls. Provide them with moderate water during hottest summer months and give them light trimming to remove spent blooms toward the end of summer to keep them looking fresh.

DESCRIPTION

 UP TO 6 IN. X 2-3 FT.

 FULL TO PART SUN

 USDA ZONE 9-11

 SOUTH AMERICA

 PURPLE

 MODERATE TO LOW

 TO 25°F