Muhlenbergia capillaris 'Regal Mist'

'REGAL MIST' MUHLY GRASS

Bright glossy green ornamental grass with pink plumes in fall.
Make no mistake this grass is striking in the fall to winter when it is in bloom. The seed heads are fluffy, some say, "cotton candy-like" with a burgundy to pink color. But be aware, that this grass is native to coastal inland swamps. While they do tolerate high heat with no issues, to perform their best, they should be given ample water during summer, otherwise these plants will have a lackluster fall bloom period. They are best left alone, however, if they are to be pruned at seasons' end, cutting them to the ground is the best way to refresh them.
