

Muhlenbergia lindheimeri 'Autumn Glow'

'REGAL MIST' MUHLY GRASS

Large, sturdy ornamental accent grass for big spaces. This Muhly grass has a fairly isolated native distribution in central to southwest Texas, but fortunately it is more adaptable to urban landscape environments than most other muhly grasses. The name Lindheimer refers to Ferdinand Lindheimer, a German born botanist who's base of plant collecting operations was in the heart of Texas Hill Country. This is a large, vase shaped ornamental grass that tops out around 5 ft. high at the seed heads. Leaves are blue green. Strongly vertical tan to silvery seed heads appears in late summer to fall. Like other muhly grasses they are low maintenance.
