PURPLE FOUNTAIN GRASS

Ornamental, purple-leafed perennial grass with fluffy seed heads. All fountain grasses are clump forming with 2-3 ft. long arching narrow leaves. This selection has a lovely burgundy to purple leaf color blended with green. The seed heads are soft, petting worthy panicles that sway above the foliage in spring and again in fall typically. The seed heads are purple initially, fading to light tan as they mature. Once finished, seed stems can be pruned off for cleanliness. These are tough, sturdy accent plants adaptable to regular irrigation. They will have the richest color when planted in full sun, but they will accept filtered light or half day sun just as well. Well-drained soils are best. For the most pleasing appearance, avoid shearing ornamental grasses like these.
